2. Processing your data

2.1. When you visit our website

Our website uses several types of cookie: those that are crucial to the website's functioning in order to improve your user experience, and those used to obtain statistics in order to optimise the performance of our platform: e.g. frequency of use or types of questions answered. No advertising cookies are used on our website.

Within this framework, we use Google Analytics (server-side cookies), a tool offered by Google Inc. (California, USA). In order to protect your privacy, we have taken appropriate steps to ensure that no personal data is transmitted to Google: we anonymise your IP address (identification number of each device connected to a network using the Internet protocol) and we integrate Google Analytics on the server side. We have also selected the shortest retention period offered by Google Analytics: i.e. 14 months. The statistics we obtain by means of this tool are anonymised. For more information visit: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

We also use Hotjar, a behavioural analysis tool which shows where on a page the users scroll or click the most. Points of interest can thus be localised. These services allow web traffic to be monitored and analysed, and user behaviour tracked. Some of these services may record sessions and make them available for visual playback at a later time. Hotjar allows users to select “Do Not Track” in the header. Your browser then tells the Hotjar script not to collect any of your data. This setting is available on all the main browsers. For more information visit: www.hotjar.com/legal/compliance/opt-out.

Cookies can be disabled in your browser settings. Please note that if you choose to block cookies, certain features or pages will not work properly. To delete cookies on your hard drive, please follow your browser's help instructions. Cookies are not retained for longer than 13 months, whatever the configuration.

2.2. When you subscribe to our services

The types of data processed are as follows: last name, first name, title, postal address, email address, telephone, age/date of birth, gender, place of origin, nationality, language for correspondence, profile picture, and any other personal details you supply voluntarily.

We process these types of data when you give us your consent or when you ask us to provide products or services. When you supply personal information via our website, we use it to create your customer account, provide you with a service and optimise our offer to you. The information is processed for the intended purpose only.

Credit card details that you may use to obtain our paid services are never recorded on our platform, but are sent directly to Datatrans AG (a Swiss company, see art. 3 below).

The details you enter on our website are not passed to third parties, except in the following cases:

- a) if you give your express consent, notably by inviting a legacy contact to represent your wishes;
- b) if we are required to do so, legally or by court order;
- c) if it is necessary in order to safeguard the data of other tooyoo users;
- d) if it is necessary in order to uphold our terms and conditions or our rights.

The great majority of your details, particularly your sensitive personal data, your replies to questionnaires and the documents you upload, are encrypted and cannot be accessed without a valid court order. If we receive a death certificate relating to you that has been checked and approved by our qualified personnel, the legacy contact(s) designated by you will be given access to all the data, including the documents you have uploaded to our platform.

It is possible to export the data at any time in a commonly used, machine-readable structured format.

We store your sensitive personal data in encrypted form, on a secure server located in Switzerland, until your account is terminated, you ask us to delete the data, you revoke your consent to its storage, or the reason for storing it expires (e.g. 10 years after the date of your death).

In the event of termination, your data is deleted in accordance with the following principles:

- Termination on your initiative (5.1 Terms & Conditions, hereafter: T&Cs): Once we have received your termination request and you have confirmed it, we will delete your account within 30 days. You will be able to export your data in a structured format.
- Termination on our initiative (5.2 T&Cs): We will delete your data 30 days after we have deactivated your account. During the interim period, the data stored on the platform can be exported in a structured format. All your data will be deleted after this deadline.
- Termination in the event of non-payment (5.3 T&Cs): Even if you fail to pay, we retain your data so that you do not have to enter it again. However, you will not be able to consult or export in a structured format any data other than your general profile data and medical information until you have paid the amount owed. If you would like all your data to be deleted, you may ask for your account to be terminated. After we have received your termination request and you have confirmed it, we will delete your account within 30 days.
- Termination for misuse or failure to abide by these T&Cs (5.4 T&Cs): You will be granted 30 days from the date of termination in which to export your data in a structured format. After this deadline, your data will be permanently deleted.

2.3. When you download our free templates

An email address is required before you can download free document templates. The only piece of information we process is the email address you supply to us. We process this in order to send you the templates, as well as marketing proposals.

We store the data until you ask us to delete it, you revoke your consent to it being stored, or the reason for storing it expires (e.g. when the processing of your request is complete). In principle, general enquiries, comments about service problems and requests for information, etc. are retained for a period of three years starting from the last communication with you. This is subject to the obligatory legal requirements – such as the time limits for data storage.

2.5. When you contact us by Intercom live chat

If you use the Intercom (chat) interface, the data you enter in it, including the contact details you provide, will be recorded by us for the purpose of processing your enquiry. Intercom does not have access to it.

We process the data so that we can respond to your requests and comments in relation to performing a contract or taking pre-contractual measures. This data is not transmitted to third parties without your consent.
